Plasma (physics) - Wikipedia

The primary objective of this book is to present and develop the fundamentals and principal applications of plasma physics, with an emphasis on what is usually called high-temperature plasma physics where the plasma is nearly fully ionized with nearly negligible effects of neutral particles on the plasma behavior.

A pinch is the compression of an electrically conducting filament by magnetic forces. The conductor is usually a plasma, but could also be a solid or liquid metal. Pinches were the first type of device used for controlled nuclear fusion.. The phenomenon may also be referred to as a Bennett pinch (after Willard Harrison Bennett), electromagnetic pinch, magnetic pinch, pinch effect or plasma pinch.

In this comment we address the preprint of Jha and Hirata (arXiv:1809.10316 [physics.chem-ph]) which claims "Numerical Evidence Falsifying Finite-Temperature Many-Body Perturbation Theory." We agree that finite difference differentiation of the exact grand potential is the correct way to verify the terms in the perturbation expansion.

American Journal of Physics and Applications (AJPA) provides a forum for the publication of scientific research and review articles. The journal publishes original research papers devoted to wide range of areas of physics and its applications. The topics included in this journal emphasize understanding of the physics underlying modern technology.

Next misconception, wouldn't lasers dominate the battle space? Lasers do not suffer from many of the inaccuracy problems that projectile weapons do, and move at the speed of light, so they are literally impossible to dodge. So lasers are the king of the battle space, right?

The recent radio observations (Mooley et al, 2018) of a superluminal radio afterglow following GRB 170817A are interpreted in terms of a jet impacting a baryonic cloak, which is presumably the material caught at the front of the jet as the latter emerges from a denser ejected material.
