The Rational Unified Process (RUP) is an iterative software development process framework created by the Rational Software Corporation, a division of IBM since 2003. RUP is not a single concrete prescriptive process, but rather an adaptable process framework, intended to be tailored by the development organizations and software project teams that will select the elements of the process that ...

For my first post on Rational Action, I'd like to offer a summary of Max Weber's classic analysis of rationality and social action in his posthumously published Economy and Society (E&S, 1922). This subject has not exactly wanted for attention. Weber's discussion is unquestionably an important reference in twentieth-century thinking about rationality, and we will no doubt have ample ...

Non-uniform rational basis spline (NURBS) is a mathematical model commonly used in computer graphics for generating and representing curves and surfaces. It offers great flexibility and precision for handling both analytic (surfaces defined by common mathematical formulae) and modeled shapes. NURBS are commonly used in computer-aided design (), manufacturing (), and engineering and are part of ...

Box and Cox (1964) developed the transformation. Estimation of any Box-Cox parameters is by maximum likelihood. Box and Cox (1964) offered an example in which the data had the form of survival times but the underlying biological structure was of hazard rates, and the transformation identified this.
